About Our Contributors 175

Manuscripts. Beginning with Volume 22, 2003, The International Journal of Transpersonal Studies will be sponsored by Saybrook Graduate School and Research Center, San Francisco, California, USA. Harris Friedman, Ph.D., and Douglas A. MacDonald, Ph.D., will assume joint editorship of the Journal. Authors should follow the guidelines of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.). Manuscripts should not exceed 10,000 words (including text, references, notes, etc.). Longer manuscripts are occasionally accepted in special circumstances. Include an abstract (up to 120 words) and a biographical sketch (up to 175 words) of each author. Four (nonreturnable) copies of all contributions should be addressed to Douglas A. MacDonald, Ph.D., Department of Psychology, University of Detroit Mercy, 8200 West Outer Drive, Detroit, MI 48219-0900, USA. The new editorial office of the Journal can be contacted via e-mail (macdonda@udmercy.edu) or by fax (1-313-993-6397). The Journal's website address is: <http://panigada.hypermart.net>

Artwork. All artwork should be in black and white. Include a biography (up to 175 words) and a brief description of the transpersonal dimension of the work. Do not submit originals. Include a stamped envelope with your address if you wish to have the work returned.

Publication policy. The Journal seeks transpersonal contributions of special merit, emphasizing engaging theoretical views, syntheses, metaperspectives, historical scholarship, personal essays, evocative writing, and artistic works. An editorial about the Journal's vision appeared in Volume 17, No. 1, pp. 1-2, and can also be viewed at the Journal's website. Submissions deemed appropriate to the Journal are peer-reviewed. Due to space and design considerations not all deserving manuscripts can be accepted for publication. All contributions must be original and neither previously published nor under consideration for publication elsewhere. Submission of a manuscript assumes commitment to publish it in the Journal if it is accepted. All statements are the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the Editors or Staff. Contributors are responsible for securing written permission, when appropriate, to reprint copywritten material. The Publisher and Editors are not responsible for the loss or damage of materials sent to them. When a manuscript is accepted for publication, the author will be notified to send the final draft in both hard copy and electronic form. Page proofs and a copyright transfer agreement will be sent to the first author and must be returned within one week. Manuscripts are subject to additional copyediting up to publication.

Subscriptions. The International Journal of Transpersonal Studies (ISSN 1321-0122) is published annually. A subscription form is provided at the end of this volume. If you are moving, please send a change of address notice thirty days prior to the change. Contact Panigada Press within six months regarding missing volumes.

Donations. The International Journal of Transpersonal Studies is published as a service to the international transpersonal community and is not financially self-sufficient. We therefore urge you also to support the Journal beyond being a subscriber and to inform colleagues and libraries about the Journal. Please contact the Editor for information on how to make tax-deductible donations.
