*The movement of whose body is the world, whose speech the sum of all language,
Whose jewels are the moon and stars—to that pure Śiva I bow!*

—Abhinaya Darpaṇa

Underwater photography triggers new ways of experiencing space, time, and being. In the seemingly boundless liquid space, the self expands and focused attention induces intense clarity of the present moment and of our basic nakedness. This portfolio seeks to capture the primal embodied experience of weightless energy and the unceasing dance of light, the creator/destroyer.
