Message from Meg Jordan, PhD, RN

The Integrative Health Studies (IHL) faculty, graduate students, advisors and alumni serve as effective change agents, promoting prevention and wellness for every segment of society. Add your voice to these causes:

* Support grassroots behavior change programs. IHL joins Dr. Steven Tierney in the CIIS Community Mental Health program with a public sector initiative for healthy life planning. One example: Faculty member Niyati Desai teaches healthy food shopping and preparation to women at risk.

* IHL students are busy with summer internships: PG&E, Glide Memorial, Aetna, and SF Public Health Dept.

BEST CONFERENCE FOR WELLNESS

NATIONAL WELLNESS INSTITUTE Keynote on July 22 by Dr. Meg Jordan, "Let Them Eat Happiness: Making Positive Psychology Work With the Grim Reality of Health/Wealth Inequity." Don’t miss this seminal conference for professional development and personal renewal.
TAKE ACTION
See the eye-opening documentary FOOD, INC. and help reauthorize the Child Nutrition Act.

Call your Congressional reps in support of a public health care insurance option. We like Paul Krugman's blog which states: "The Congressional Budget Office (CBO) has found that administrative costs under the public Medicare plan are less than 2% of expenditures, compared with about 11% of spending by private plans under Medicare Advantage." In addition to savings, a public health care insurance option is part of a humane society.

NEW ALLEY
Samueli Institute's Director Wayne Jonas, MD, put forth a Wellness Initiative for the Nation. Along with the voices expressed at the Institute of Medicine's Summit on Integrative Medicine, Dr. Jonas joins a chorus of national leaders advocating for the inclusion of health coaches to stem the growing tide of people with chronic degenerative disease by teaching lifestyle change.

ADVISORY BOARD MEMBER
Welcome new advisor Daphne White, PhD, a CIIS trustee, whose work with Institute of Noetic Science and numerous other boards, whose experience will be highly valued. Daphne introduced us to homeopathic educator Iris Ratowski, who will join advisor Sally LaMont, ND, LAc, as guest lecturers for Integrative Health Students this fall.

ALUMNI AT WORK!
Our graduates are working in their chosen field--a significant achievement in this economy. Some examples: Carmen Sosa is a Program Coordinator at Institute for Health and Healing; Cynthia Baklanov is a holistic hospital chaplain at St Mary's Hospital in San Francisco; and Stephanie Goldstein is an integrative health practitioner for three medical practices near Carbondale, IL.

WARM WELCOME
IHL welcomes Marenka Cerny, MA, who will teach Integrative Anatomy and Physiology, which she has taught for several years at other universities. She earned her MA in Somatics Psychotherapy from CIIS in '96.
NEW COURSE
Complementary, Alternative, and Integrative Medicine
Ever wonder how to put together an integrative health center? We’ll explore CAIM healing therapies, interview working practitioners, investigate licensure and practice guidelines, and review different successful models in existence today. Students will design a hands-on, experiential "mock" clinic, based on real-world advice from CAIM practitioners.

CIIS Public Programs Fall 2009
HEALTH POLITICS with IHL Advisory Board Member Len Saputo, MD, on September 17.
JUNGLE MEDICINE with Connie Grauds, RPh, and Meg Jordan, PhD, RN, on October 15.
NUTRIPUNCTURE experts Patrick Veret, MD, and Cristina Cuomo, hope to return for a September/October workshop. Their July demo was astounding. Come experience a form of needle-less acupuncture.
